BRAND TRACKER

Grow sales and brand awareness by ensuring retailer knowledge of your product and in-store positioning are consistent and optimal.

PROBLEM
Your sales at bricks & mortar retail locations have leveled off or are declining and you are not sure why or you suspect something isn’t quite right with your retail program.

SOLUTION
Get boots on the ground to conduct a real-time evaluation of what retailers are actually saying about your product to their clients and how your product is positioned in the stores versus your competition. Then build a retailer focused product education program that guarantees consistent messaging and enhanced retailer loyalty.

IDENTIFYING THE PROBLEM
Redstone Media Group’s “Brand Tracker” program is a variation on the Mystery Shopper program designed to give you actionable information and solutions. Retail staff come and go and distributors are not diligent about product positioning at the retail level so it is vital that you have control over retailer relationships and how your product is being represented.

WHY CREATE AN eLEARNING PROGRAM?
Running a business is hard, especially when you have a network of retailers nationally or even globally. The challenge is ensuring that retailers are being educated consistently about your product/s in a way that they will remember, as well as consumers being told the same information about your products no matter where they are purchasing them. The only way to effectively duplicate your message is by creating a professional educational program with an incentive that encourages staff to engage in learning. A program like this has the power to create brand loyalty.

- Redstone will create your customized program along with a retailer implementation plan to ensure retailer owner/staff acceptance and utilization.
